AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Vaudeville and Moving Pictures.

Every act a sparkler of the first water, was the verdict of the crowds at the Auditorium on Thursday for the four vaudeville turns that will show at this house for the remainder of the week. Beginning with Paulline Welch, who is a pretty singing comedlenne, who makes an special hit with her restance dence, the applause comes not strong for each southers, and every moment in the bill is full entertainment. Mahoney Brothers with their elever little dog, Dalsy, are winners. Their fancy clog steps are in the novelty line, and Dalsy has one specialty that gets recognition when she does a pullup like a parallel bar athlete.

The European novelty act shown by alfrede & Pearl is a fine one, the man of the team doing some wonderful single handed balancing, and Miss Pearl thowing that she is a fine type of the shysical culture girl.

EXERTED POWERFUL INFLUENCE

The death in New York of Floyd Henry Crane removes from a field of varied activities a business man of mark, whom Norwich has been proud to claim as a worthy son. His ability as a railroad executive was widely recognized and as principal owner of The Norwich Bulletin he was not only a great factor in the upbuilding of that newspaper, but also exerted a powerful influence for the welfare of this city, for which he always cherished a strong affection. His passing in the very prime of a useful career will be felt as a loss far beyond the confines of his afflicted family.—Norwich Record Editorial.

The Record further said:

In 1892, the New Haven road's contract with the Wagner company, which was absorbed by the Pullman company, having expired, the road decided to inaugurate a parior, dining and sleeping our service of its own, and after looking over the field for a capable head selected Mr. Crane to organize the service. This he did with a thoroughness and efficiency that characterized all his undertakings, and he became superintendent of the parlor, dining and sleeping car service of the company, which position he held

Evening Greebesks Linger-Miss Ma-rion Randall Graduated from Mary-land College Seven Wells Drilled. An observer on the Green has noted the purple finch, the field sparrow and the cow bird. The goldfinches are putting on their summer dress. Large flocks of evening grosbeaks are seen every morning in Huntington lane. It looks very much as if they have come east for the season.

Miss Randall Graduated.

Miss Marion Randall returned on Tuesday evening to her home on West Town street, having completed her work and been graduated from Maryland college, Luthersville, Md. Commencement exercises were held earlier this year because of two cases of typhoid fever in the college. Aside from this fact and the accident by fire a few weeks ago, the year has been an unusually pleasant one.

WHITE HANDS OR RED HANDS, WHICH?

Red, rough hands on retiring usually become soft white hands on rising through the simple and on rising through the simple and economical one night treatment afforded by Cuticura soap and Cuticura ointment. Bathe and soak the hands on retiring, in a hot lather of Cuticura soap. Dry and anoint freely, with Cuticura ointment, and in severe cases spread the ointment on thin pieces of old linen or cotton. Wear during the night old, loose gloves, or a light bandage to protect the clothing. Most effective for chapped, itching and bleeding, hands.
